Philanthropy at UAMS

The extraordinary spirit of philanthropy at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences has provided the intrinsic foundation for advancing the institution to national and international acclaim as a premier comprehensive academic medical center.

Each year thousands support UAMS in a variety of ways. Each and every gift is important to our mission and charts an inspired pathway toward the future where teaching, healing, searching and serving transform health care for our state and beyond.

The generosity of our donors has been at the heart of initiating the institutes that provide expert care for patients throughout the world as well as strengthening the professional education, cutting-edge research and outreach programs at UAMS.

We extend our heartfelt appreciation to all our friends and supporters who have become part of the UAMS family and gratefully acknowledge their extraordinary spirit of philanthropy.

Our Mission
To teach, to heal, to search, to serve.

I have found that among its other benefits, giving liberates the soul of the giver.
- Maya Angelou

In 2009, more than 7,200 donors partnered with UAMS and contributed over $26 million to advance our mission, assuring that UAMS remains a model for modern health care in addition to continuing to excel as a leader in academic medicine.

www.uamshealth.com/giving
I am excited and grateful as I review the past year and think about our many friends and supporters who partnered with UAMS and imagined better health care for Arkansas and beyond.

These partnerships have played a key role in helping UAMS achieve its current status as a recognized leader in academic medicine. While federal and state support is critically important, it has been the philanthropic support of individuals, corporations, organizations and foundations that has spearheaded many of our most important projects.

Philanthropy has helped create and expand the institutes and the programs that provide expert care for patients as well as cutting-edge research, outreach programs and our new state-of-the art hospital.

It has also strengthened the professional education provided by the Colleges of Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and Health Related Professions, the Graduate School, our regional programs and our new campus in Northwest Arkansas.

The charts included in this report are a numerical representation of philanthropy at UAMS for fiscal year 2009 for which we should all be very proud.

Later in the report, we address the tremendous success of our campuswide campaign — Campaign Imagine. We are proud that Campaign Imagine has exceeded the $325 million goal more than a year early. The campaign currently stands at more than $342 million. The campaign’s success is proof of the value our donors and volunteers place on UAMS and its mission.

Thank you for your continued support.

The extraordinary spirit of philanthropy at UAMS has provided the intrinsic foundation for advancing the institution to international acclaim.
Each year thousands support various areas at UAMS. Each and every gift is important to our mission and charts an inspired pathway toward the future where teaching, healing, searching and serving transform health care for our state and beyond.
Campaign Imagine – The Campaign for UAMS is a strategy to change lives.

The ambition of UAMS is explicit – to be a model for modern health care that transcends city, state and national borders.

The purpose of Campaign Imagine was to identify the goals of each department, college and institute at UAMS and to establish a comprehensive philanthropic campaign to raise the funds necessary to meet these goals.

In 2004, we set a goal of raising $325 million by December 31, 2010, for new facilities, faculty recruitment and retention, endowed chairs and professorships, research, student scholarships, outreach programs and even a pool of unrestricted funds.

The campaign surpassed its goal more than a year early and UAMS friends, alumni, faculty and staff as well as the UAMS Foundation Fund Board and other volunteer boards campuswide are credited with the campaign’s success.

While surpassing the goal is a monumental achievement for the university, the campaign continues because our work is far from done. There remain many critical projects and other research, scholarship, faculty and program priorities that need to be addressed.
